with much virtue & resignation many painful & languishing infirmities, but principally in her last sickness, her patience was admirable, supporting her her Agony, which was violent, & of 4 days endurance & supported by her with humble submission to the divine Will, having her judgment to the last. Anno Domini the (1667) the [sic] 26th of January in our Convent of Bethleme of English Poor Clares in Dunkerk, is most happily departed this Life, strengthened with all the rights of our holy Mother the Church. We looked upon her as an exemplar model, & incitement to the practise of all solid Virtues, as humility, charity, conformity to the Divine Will & great Confidence in God, with an admirable equality in all events, prosperous, & adverse. Her maternal tenderness was to all singular, & no less her affability, & sweetness to the winning of Respect, as well from externs, as her Community, her prudence in Governing was excelling, by an assiduous attendance to our (107) Convent's Concernes, (but not to give intermission to regular observance) wherein as long as she enjoyed health, she was indispensable. Day & Night, constantly assisting at the divine Office, which was to her an Incomparable delight, Time was so precious to her, that rarely she gave herself release from some actual employment, according to her forces, finally what was of a most particular remark she never when allowed, even from her first entrance into Religion abstained from refectionating herself with the delicious banquet of her Soul's food, which she ever held to be the sole support in all occurrence, as did evidence her prudent & Charitable proceedings in all her undertakings & concernes, her particular devotion to our Blessed Lady was very remarkable, but especially in her last Sickness, with no less cause of amaisement than imitation, under whose protection we may Confidently believe she was securely shrouded from all hindrance to her speedy enjoyment of a Blessed eternity but since the Judgments of God are inscrutable, I humbly crave the assistance of your prayers and Suffrages. Requiescat in Pace.

infirmities, what unabled her to comply with her vocation of Lay Sister. She applied herself to perseverant prayer, & to the performance of which service her infirmities permitted her to render, being singular Charitable to All, but most mortified to her self, concealing for several years a Cancer she had in her breast, even until her death from knowledge, as much as she cou'd, even the dolour it caused her, willingly & joyfully supporting the same for Love of her heavenly spouse. Languishing to be dissolved to enjoy him Eternally, which that she speedily may do, be pleased to afford her the assistance of your holy Prayers. Requiescat in Pace.

Her Assiduity to the gaining of perfection from her 1st entrance continued to her dying day, & was particularly exemplar in the observance of Silence, being careful not to speak when a sign wou'd serve, & so punctual in all regular observances, that she was never seen to come too late to any, her Love, Respect, & obedience to Superiors was very singular, as also her devotion to St John Evangelist whose Spirit she endeavour'd to acquire, by a general Love to all, and in her care when Mistress of Novices, her cheerful supportation of sharp & long illnesses was very edifying. In her last sickness she was attacked with an asthma, which she was frequently subject too, & tho the Doctor did not apprehend her in present danger, yet she found, & knew herself so near death, that the whole Night before she dyed, did not dare to sleep in the least, telling her tender in the morning, she apprehended, she shou'd never waken more in this world, & dye before she had received her God, the Viaticum was brought to her, betwixt 6 & 7 of the clock in the morning, and she dyed before they had finish'd anointing her. I humbly beg your prayers for the speediest repose of her soul. Requiescat in Pace.

Anno Domini (1698) the 3d of May in our Convent of Nazareth of English Poor Clares in Graveline, is happily departed this Life, strengthened with the rights of our holy Mother the Church our dear sister, Sister Mary of the Immaculate Conception Hensby, Aged of 45 & 23 since her entrance into holy Religion, since which time she much edified us by her prompt Obedience, love for holy poverty, recollection and equality of temper, Assiduity in prayer, Ardent devotion to the holy Sacrament, & exact observance of Regular discipline, supporting with great patience, & Conformity to the divine will, many Infirmities, & sharp tryalls. Her humility taught her to conceal ingeniously several talents & endowments she was advantaged with all & to require as if ignorant the directions of others. I hope ere this she enjoy the reward of her pious Life, yet it being the divine will to surprise her with a Sudden death, we the more earnestly recommend her to your holy prayers & Suffrages. She has much edified us with her piety, devotion, & example in Conventual duty's, & little serviceable actions, notwithstanding her weak constitution & age, even showing in her behaviour an angelical Innocency, & primitive fervour, which doubtly has obtained her a great reward, yet least any thing shou'd retard her speedy enjoyment of it, I humbly beg your accustom'd prayers. She was very singular for silence, tending to herself, & to her Obedience seeking her own Mortification, esteeming her self a Miserable Sinner, which made her during Life, but most especially during a long & tedious Consumption to apprehend death, which our dear Lord was pleased so to sweeten, by giving all things that might render her happy, in such manner that gives us great hopes of her already happiness, yet for fear anything may yet remain to be purified, your Prayers we most humbly crave. She brought along with her the true broken spirit of Religion, which she daily improved by her constant & exact Obedience, & Respect to Superiours, fidelity to God, preventing goodness & civility to all, to which was added a most extraordinary patience, in several great & painful infirmities, which made her condemn'd by the Doctors several years & kept us astonish'd how she cou'd persevere to do so many little services for holy Religion, & as this was esteem'd a kind of miracle, so was the restoration of her speech, which she had lost 7 years, as we have reason to believe was obtained by prayer. The fervour in which she dyed, we hope speedily merited her a plentiful experience of the divine Mercy, notwithstanding, humbly recomend her Soul's speedy rest, unto your holy Prayers. Her silent sufferance was no less remarkable, for she had certainly dropt down dead in some assembly, had not her Illness been discovered by her looks, & occasion'd her being sent to the Infirmary, where with a most earnest & Languishing desire she expected her last hour, & enjoyment of her God, which that nothing may retard, I humbly request your accustom'd prayers & Suffrages. She was ever ready & even preventing to assist any who wanted her help, her grounded interior humility was also manifested by the mean opinion she had of herself, even reputed herself the least & most undeserving in the house. Her great esteem & love to holy Poverty gave her a constant watchfulness to hinder the least thing from being wasted. She had a Singular Devotion to our Blessed Lady & St Joseph, who undoubtedly obtained her the courage & patience with which she bore her last Sickness. Respect, obedience to Superiors was ever her darling virtue, which she with unwear'd endeavours inculcated into her Novices during the three terms she laudably exercised that Office, wherein she gave them example of all Religious virtues, particularly of Silence, & abstraction from all things of this world. She sustained many infirmitys with admirable patience, chiefly her last which was a Violent fever of 20 days & Catarrh. Her tender devotion to our Blessed Lady was also peculiar, who doubtless assisted her in her happy death, having render'd up her soul with perfect tranquillity, & presence of mind, & I now confide is enjoying the only object of her affections, but not to be wanting in our duty humbly crave your accustomed Charity for her. She was most Respectful to Superiors & so exemplar in all virtues suitable to her state that she at her death merited the Elogium from her Confessor that her greatest imperfections might serve for example of virtue for others to practice, but the Judgments of God being inscrutable, I humbly crave for her your prayers of Charity. She was insatiable in her endeavours to solace the Souls in Purgatory, & most ardently devoted to the adorable Sacrament of the Alter. She lived & dyed a large sharer of the Cross, Almighty God being pleased to try her with great aridities, interiour suffrances, & almost continual Corporal infirmities, lastly most violent Convulsions, which deprived her of her speech, and sences, & two day after of Life. any one who stood in need of help, even in the most abject employs, never declining any thing of that Nature, notwithstanding her age & infirmities, which she supported with great Courage, & Patience, admitting no dispensation from the constant observance of our holy Rule, & fervent performance of the Divine Office day & night. Anno Domini (1705) the 20th of May in our Convent of Nazareth of English Poor Clares in Graveline, sweetly Reposed in our Lord, fortified with all the rights of our holy Mother the Church, our tenderly beloved sister, Sister Mary Teresa Fettyplace, the 38th Year of her Age, & 17th since her entrance into holy Religion, during which time she was neve[r] perceiv'd with reflection either in word or sign to have given trouble to any one, nor was her virtue less inventive in excusing her neighbour, which made her not only conceal what ever mortification she met with from them, but found means of praise even in their imperfections. This charitable practice, joyn'd to an unchangeable sweet, mild temper made her pious conversation coveted by all, & consequently generally amongst us. A mean opinion of herself, obedience, & respect to Superiors seem'd to be her particular character, to which was added a perfect conformity to the Divine Will, & a singular devotion to the Immaculate Mother of God, by who's intercession she doubtless obtained so remarkeable a patience in her frequent Sickneses, & incisions, which the remedys of her infirmities obliged her to, thus being refin'd in the furnace of both Corporal, & spiritual Suffrances I hope was crown'd immediately with an immortal recompense. Yet since the Judgements of God are secretes to us, I humbly request in her soul's behalf your Suffrages & Prayers. Requiescat in Pace.

She was prevented [sic] with grace in a most particular manner, even from her Childhood, which occasion'd her conversion to the catholic faith, & remained constant in it, notwithstanding all the caresses, & ill treatment of her parents at 12 years old. Doubtless twas the same grace that made her lead so holy a Life in Religion, being ever most exact in all Religious Observances, obedient to Superiors & a great Lover of holy poverty, which was joyn'd to a serious tendance to herself, & constant practise of Interior mortification. But of all virtues she seem'd to shine most in that of conformity to the divine will, bearing the most sensible Crosses with an heroic patience, which we confide has before this obtaind her an Eternal reward, but the judgments of God being inscrutable, I beg the assistance of your holy prayers for her speedy repose. 111 some Dispensations, so great a lover of Regularity, & follow: the Comunity, that notwithstanding the lameness she was often subject to, could not be prevailed with to be absent from assisting at the Divine Office both day & night, to which she had a peculiar devotion, & at all other times as far as holy Obedience permitted her, made the Choir her chiefest place of residence. Tho by Violence of Convulsions was incapable of Confessin or Viaticum, yet by an instinct some hours before, had disposed herself by all sorts of acts proper for a dying person, for she was ill of a fever, but not thought in danger. Her last, as well as many other great Sickesses, she supported with very remarkable patience, & resignation, chiefly a most consuming & painful Rheumatism, which reduced her to a perfect Anatomy. She recovered of it, but never so, as to be able to quit the Infirmary, where she gave most constant proofs of her peaceful spirit, tendance to her self Recollection, & nere Conscience. which reduced her to a very Anatomy, yet her unchangable sweetness, was both ours & the Doctors wonder especially the month she lived after the last Sacraments, for he said her Suffrances was inconceivable to any but the Almighty whom I hope she speedily enjoy'd; yet not to neglect our duty, I humbly request your accustom'd Succour. 113 to Superiors, Assiduity, & intenseness in prayer. Holy poverty was her darling virtue, which appeared in her Clothes, & throughout all her actions, in whatever employments she was in. Tho of distraction, she appear'd with an interiour recollection, & performd all dutys with the greatest fidelity imaginable as was manifest the 6 years she was Choir Mistress, & was ever a pattern of Regularity. A little after she was Chosen Vicaress it pleas'd God to visit her with a sharp sickness in which her patient silent supportation of suffrances was most edifying, as was her always pious conversation, when her health permitted her to return to the Community she made it her study to give all manner of satisfaction, which caused her being so suddenly snatch'd from us, generally regretted. She was seiz'd upon with an appoplectic fit, blood gushing out of her mouth, & gave us only time to administer the holy Oyles, which makes us, tho her Life was a daily preparation for death, earnestly petition your holy prayers for her speedy enjoyment of eternal glory. Her sweetness, patience, & conformity to the will of God was not less remarkable in a blindness which she supported for many years with out ever being heard to complain. She enjoy'd a perfect presence of mind, & not a quarter before her death desired the Father that assisted her to dye to joyn with her in saying the Te Deum in thanksgiven to Almighty God for all the Crosses & Sufferances it had pleased him to send her, & render'd up her last breath in most affectionate acts, but human frailty being great, beg the assistance of your H Prayers for the repose of her soul. She was endow'd with Singular advantages of nature & grace, which renderd her amiable to all she conversed with. Indifatigable in her assiduity for the Community's advancement Spiritual, & temporal, great was her faith, & confidence in Almighty God, & invincible her Courage & patience in Cross Events. The Singular Devotion she had to the Passion of our Blessed Saviour doubtless Strengthen'd her to Support with remarkable patience & serenity Continuul Infirmities. She likewise [gave] great examples of Mortification, most particularly in her diet. Her Maternal tenderness & Compassion for the Sick was no less extraordinary, having no regard to her own health to give them any ease or Solace. She was seiz'd on Mandy Thursday with her last Sickness; yet wou'd not omit Serving at the Table, & washing the feet, from whence she was Constraint to take her bed, Employing her last 11 days continual fever, in fervent & repeated Aspirations to Almighty God, which did not hinder her taking particular notice of each person of her Community, & giving them her blessing, till she was not able to lift up her hand. Her great Devotion to St Frances Xaverious (by whom she had (202) often been favour'd), doubtless obtain'd that unalterable Sweetness & presence of Spirit to the last moment. So saintly a Death gives us all reason to hope she's now in the enjoyment of a happy Eternity; but not to be failing in our Duty, we humbly Request your accustom'd Prayers. Requiescat in Pace.

As equally beloved as esteem'd for her deserts, & true piety, being a most solid Example of a constant tendance to herself & zeal for the increase of her own perfection, therefore abhor'd & shun'd nothing more than distracted occassions, notwithstanding when ordered by Holy Obedience, performed them with a remarkable fidelity, quietness, taken care never to give mortification to any, being of so mild & sweet temper that she seem'd even insensible of the provocations she met with, & so Charitable to hide them when she cou'd, & tho of a most weak & tender Constitution was so exemplary Compassionate that she often ventur'd all things beyond her Strength to help any she saw in Suffrance or affliction, & always preventing in any humble or serviceable action, proceeding from that vile opinion she had of herself, which doubtless also made her Confidence (205) more strong in the mercies of God, Who she languisht so much to Enjoy, & expresst it just a moment before she dyed, being in full presence of Spirit; yet that nothing may deprive her of this, I humbly beg your usual relief for her Soul. 132

Anno Domini (1779) the 20th of June in our Convent of Nazareth of English Poor Clares in Graveline, Amidst the Sighs, tears, & Prayers of her most Afflicted Children, is most happily deceas'd, strengthened with all the Sacraments of our holy Mother the Church, our most Reverend, most Venerable, & most Dearly beloved Mother Abbess Sister Mary Felix Petre Jubilarian in the 80th year of her Age, & 64 since her entrance into holy Religion, 43 years of which she, in quality of Abbess governed this Monastery with Singular prudence, affability, & Mildness, leaving us truly desolate orphelines by the privation of the tenderest & most Compationate of Mothers, whom we never can Sufficiently bewail, tho greatly enrich'd by the examples we retain of her Virtues, never relenting from her 1st fervour, but daily tended to her own perfection & the constant practice of all Virtues suitable to her holy Vocation. Her tender Charity to poor distresst People extended to all in need addresst to her, which gain'd her the Love and Respect of each one, in so much that we her disconsolate Children cou'd not discern on whom her Charitable assistance extended most, & that with so much dexterity & goodness that we was blest under her prudent Government & maternal care which made us Obey, drawn by these attracts, more for Love, than any other motive, making each ones necessity the Subject of her Concern, Comforting us in all tryals to the utmost of her power. She ever had a Singular Love & Zeal for Allmighty God's honour & glory, & the advancement of her Community in perfection. [She] was most tenderly devoted to the Passion & death of our Blessed (241) Saviour, often power'd forth her Soul in the Contemplation of him in the most Blessed Sacrament of the Altar, from which she never abstain'd receiving, till Age & infirmities depriv'd her of so frequent a Support, all spare hours she spent in the Choir, drawing down, the we have all reason to believe many favours both spiritual & temporal upon us all, which doubtless gave her that strong Confidence in Divine Providence. Being admirably gifted with equality of temper in all events both prosperous & adverse, she Likewise frequently experienc'd the powerful protection of our Blessed Lady, & St Joseph invoking them in all necessity for the good advancement of this our Monastery, being never wearied in Imploring Succour thro the powerful Intercession of all the holy Saints, in which our holy Father, holy Mother, were not the least solicited. She being Indefatigable in all that cou'd render us happy, our only hope in so sensible a separation is, that our loss is her gain. A pure decay of Nature gave the fatal stroke, being perfectly sensible to the last moment, giving us all her Blessing a few minutes before she expired, sweetly gave up her Soul into the hands of her Creator, to live as we have all reason to hope Eternal. But as the greatest virtues are attended with human frailties, lest anything shou'd retard the happy Enjoyment of her heavenly Spouse, I earnestly recomend her Sweet Soul to your usual Prayers & Suffrages. Requiescat in Pace.

The following is written on a loose sheet, fastened over page 241.

In the Year of Our Lord 1779, on the 20th day of June after receiving the last Sacraments of the Church, died the Venerable and Reverend Mother Abbess.

Sister Mary Felix Petre de Fithlers Abbess of the English Poor Clares of Gravelines in the 80th year of her age & 64th of her Profession having governed that Monastery during 43 years. She fled from the corruptions of the Age at an early time of Life & took the solemn Vows of Religion, in the Exact performance of which she became a Model of the most Eminent Virtue. It is hard to say which was most Conspicuous, her Humility in Obeying or her affability in Commanding, but surely we need no greater elogium of her Merit, than the tears of her Religious Sisters, & the Blessing of the Poor, who Equally regret her as a mother & a friend. As her Life was spent in the steady practice of Virtue, & for a long course of years had been tending to perfection, we humbly hope she will meet the Reward prepared for the Just. But, as all her Virtues, all her failings must stand before that God in whose sight the heavens are Unclean, we earnestly Entreat your prayers that he may spare his Servant & bring her Speedily to a place of Eternal Rest.

Anno Dom 1793 the 16th of May in our Convent of Nazareth of English Poor Clares in Graveline, has piously quitted this Mortal Exile fortified with all the Sacraments of our Holy Mother the Church, our Most Reverend & Dearly beloved Mother Abbess, Sister Clementina Clare Johnson the 45th year of age & 28th of her Holy Profession, amidst the tears & prayers of her truly afflicted Children whom she has left in the deepest trouble & distress as we can never sufficiently lament the loss of so worthy a Superior. Almighty God had endow'd her with an Extraordinary Capacity with other gifts both of nature & grace which she faithfully Improved for the Benefit & Advantage of the Community to whom she gave general Satisfaction the space of 14 years which she Govern'd us with so much prudence, sweetness & affability that Endear'd her to us, for we never fail'd to find in her a tender Mother an affectionate Friend, which visibly appear'd when she could solace or Comfort us under any Pressure or affliction. By this Charitable & Compassionate Disposition she was easily moved with a feeling sense of the Sufferings of others & Inclined her to attend to the necessities of every poor Person that address'd to her (297) bis whom she always relieved as far as Circumstances would allow, often repeating that we should never want while we could help poor distress'd People, her Confidence in the Fatherly Care of Divine Providence was very great which seem'd to Increase in times of the greatest Necessities. She always show'd an Unwearied Sollicitude for the Benefit of the

Community being most Indefatigable never sparing her Pains where she had the least Prospect of Procuring them any advantage, often to the Prejudice of her own health by her Close Application to the affairs of the Convent in which her Activity Joined to her deliberate Cool reflection of mind & forecast with an Unalterable serenity and Composure which no Cross event could ever change was very remarkable. Her Cheerful Mild temper with so Many other Amiable qualifications render'd her not only a Comfort to her Community but affable and agreeable to all she Convers'd with. In short she was Universally beloved & Esteemed & we were truly happy when Almighty God was Pleased to deprive us of her, especially in these distressing times which adds much to our severe Cross and makes our loss Irreparable. Her last Illness was a Continual Vomiting with other Bilious Complaints which terminated in an Imposthume in her stomach. She suffered much during the space of five Months with her Usual (297) ter Peace and tranquillity & Edified us greatly by an Uncommon Patience & Resignation to the Holy Will of God, ever grateful for every thing done for her, was always thoughtful and attentive to each one of the Community, often Expressing her tender Concern for us all. This Join'd to the many other virtues which she has left so great Examples of, makes so lasting an Impression on us that no time or Circumstance will ever be able to Efface. However, this reflection Comforts us, that while we lament our loss, she is thro the Merits of our Blessed Saviour's bitter Death and Passion (in which she ever Placed her entire hopes & Confidence the Intercession of our Blessed Lady, St Joseph, & our H. Mother St Clare) gone to receive from his hands the reward of those Virtues which he alone can sufficiently Prize, and is now in the Eternal Enjoyment of that happiness promised to the meek humble of Heart; but as the Judgments of God are Unknown to us and the greatest Purity required in all those that are to follow the Lamb wherever he goes, not [to] be failing in our Duty, [we] Earnestly request the Charitable assistance of your fervent Prayers. Requiescat in Pace.

esteem of her holy vocation, & ever seem'd to place her Perfection in the practice of those Virtues that might render her most pleasing to her heavenly Spouse, particularly in obedience & submission to Superiours, which she also endeavour'd to inculcate into her Novices, the three years she was mistress. Her resignation to the divine will was also remarkable in the heavy Cross's it pleas'd Almighty God to visit her with, those especially that preceded & follow'd our quitting our dear convent at Graveline, which were many & very great. She was also remarkable for speaking well of the absent & was generally Charitable to all. As far as her weak health wou'd permit, she was greatly devoted to St Austin & St Francis de Sales, who were no doubt powerful advocates in her favor & procured her the tranquillity & resignation with which she met Death of which she had always had a great dread, till her last sickness, when it pleas'd her heavenly Spouse to sweeten it to her in a wonderful manner. Her last Illness which was long & painfull, she supported with edifying patience, which join'd to her other Virtues has, we Confide obtain'd her a happy Eternity but as the Judgments of God are secret & not to be failing in our duty, we humbly request for her your accustom'd prayers. Requiescat in Pace.

this mortal exile our dear sister, Sister Catherine Joseph Nihell aged 46 and 27 since her entrance into holy Religion, she was ever Innocently & piously inclined & much addicted to prayer, a great lover of holy Poverty, & very Charitable in helping any one that stood in need of her assistance. She has left us much edified at her patient supportation of the many inconveniences attending a sickly life. Her patience & Conformity to the divine will was particularly remarkable during her last Illness, which was a lingering & painful decay, which confin'd her to a Room some Months before her Death, which time she faithfully spent in preparing for her last passage. Her pious life was ended by a most happy & Edifying Death, being present to herself to the last. For her speedy enjoyment of Eternal Bliss, I humbly crave for her your accustom'd prayers of Charity. Requiescat in Pace.
